It is with great pleasure that I present to you the 2022 Trade Directory of Zimbabwe.

It has been a year since the commencement of trade under the continent-wide agreement, which is expected to integrate economies, accelerate growth of countries, improve competitiveness, and improve economic development of economies. The African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA) is expected to ease and promote movement of people, as well as goods and services across African boarders, a development that will strengthen intra-Africa trade, which is currently low.

For Zimbabwean businesses, AfCFTA is going to make it easy to penetrate non-traditional markets, which will go a long way in diversifying export markets. In the quest to enter new markets, I am delighted that this publication – as a reliable and reputable source – will make it easy for buyers from across the continent to connect with exporters from Zimbabwe.

A professional portrait of a Black man with short hair and a beard, smiling broadly. He is wearing a dark blue double-breasted suit jacket over a light blue shirt and a bright red tie. A small gold pin is visible on his left lapel.

As we enter into another year characterised by challenges caused by the global coronavirus pandemic (COVID-19), creative and disruptive ideas are shaping successful businesses across the world. Traditional marketing and promotional techniques that often-involved physical contact are fast becoming unpopular, as people consider social distancing as a key measure against COVID-19. I am glad that most businesses, including those in Zimbabwe are embracing virtual forms of contact as a critical solution to challenges posed by COVID-19. To facilitate business-to-business engagements, this publication provides a starting point through which buyers from across the world will identify reliable suppliers in Zimbabwe.

From the listed businesses in this trade directory, I am excited that previously disadvantaged groups have taken space and are increasing the visibility of their products in markets across the world. Through several of our interventions as Zimbabwe's trade development and promotion organisation, I am delighted to note that the number of youth-led, women-led and small businesses taking part in mainstream export business has been on an upward trend. It is my hope that this publication will further enhance the visibility of such businesses in export markets.

As we create more avenues through which Zimbabwean businesses will strengthen their online presence, let me take this opportunity to bring your attention to Shop@Zim, an online platform we have designed to make it easy for buyers from across the world to connect with Zimbabwean exporters. We have been constantly improving the platform to enhance your user experience and I hope you will find it useful in locating suppliers from Zimbabwe, as well as interact with their products.

This Trade Directory remains a valuable resource to share key information about Zimbabwean businesses to buyers, investors, exporters and other stakeholders. It seeks to increase the visibility of Zimbabwean products in regional and international markets. We are confident that this publication will improve competitiveness by providing up-to-date contact information on Zimbabwean manufacturers, exporters and other trade-related support organisations.

To improve on accessibility, this Trade Directory will be available online on the Zimbabwe Trade Information Portal (www.tradezimbabwe.com). This additionally allows for global visibility for our Zimbabwean products and services. I encourage exporters and importers to frequently utilize the Trade Information Portal to access up-to date trade information at the click of a button.

I anticipate that this publication will be useful to your business.

ZimTrade Governance Structure

ZimTrade is governed by a Board comprising 9 members, of whom 4 are elected by the members in a general meeting and 5, including the chairman, are appointed by the Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Trade, in the Government of Zimbabwe. All Board members are appointed in their own rights, and not in a representative capacity. All the members attend an Annual General Meeting at which the organisation's performance is reviewed.

How ZimTrade is Funded

ZimTrade is mainly funded through a Trade Development Surcharge of 0.1% of the free on-board value of qualifying private sector imports and exports (excluding minerals, fuels and power). At the formation of ZimTrade, government originally committed to provide a budgetary subvention (grant) matching dollar for dollar the private sector contribution from the surcharge.

The trade development surcharge was introduced after realisation that trade promotion organisations which are effective have operational autonomy and are well resourced financially, usually through levies on imports and exports, or both.

AGRICULTURE

Agriculture remains central not only in driving economic growth but also on powering the industrialisation and value chains strategy. The sector contributed US$59.5 million to total export earnings in 2020 and 17% to Zimbabwe's GDP.

The Agriculture and Food systems Strategy launched in 2020 envisioned the attainment of a US8.2 billion agricultural industry by 2025, but this was achieved within a year. The approach is anchored on enabling agriculture policy and the regulatory environment to facilitate the flow of investment into the sector; appropriate agriculture investments for productivity, food security and resilience; efficient agricultural knowledge, technology, and innovation system; and the agriculture sector coordination for responsive planning, implementation monitoring and evaluation.

There is an emergence of new products with great potential namely blueberries, chillies, avocados, peaches, nectarines, and pineapples. These have markets in the United States, China, and the Netherlands, amongst others.

Main contributors in the sector are maize, cotton, soybeans, wheat, tobacco, and horticultural crops such as roses, and cut flowers. Investment opportunities in the sector include contract farming arrangements, financial and technical services provision, infrastructure rehabilitation and development (e.g., irrigation); agro-processing as well as agriculture value chain development. Opportunities for value addition are in the horticulture, tobacco, cotton, sugar, leather and forestry subsectors.

Safety and soundness of the banking sector is reflected through the regulations, activities and mandate of the regulator. In Zimbabwe, the responsibility lies with the Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe (RBZ). Importantly, one of the core functions of the RBZ is to fulfil the mandate of financial stability.

In fulfilling this mandate, the Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe Act [Chapter 22:15] empowers the Reserve Bank to supervise banking institutions and foster stability and proper functioning of the financial system. Through the various pieces of legislation such as The Banking Act [Chapter 24:20] and Banking Regulations (Statutory Instrument 205 of 2000) provide for the registration, regulation, continuous monitoring and supervision of institutions conducting banking business in Zimbabwe.

The architecture of country's banking sector is comprised of thirteen (13) commercial banks, five (5) building societies, and one (1) savings bank. In addition, there are one-hundred sixty-eight (168) credit only microfinance institutions, eight (8) deposit-taking microfinance institutions and three (3) development financial institutions. To promote the financial stability mandate, the regulatory framework continues to be strengthened.

Notwithstanding the heightening inherent risks arising from the Covid-19 pandemic and other macroeconomic factors, the Zimbabwean banking sector ended the year 2021 with adequate capital, satisfactory asset portfolios and sustained profitability. The revised capitalisation requirements effective in December 2021 are expected to build greater loss absorbance capacity in the banking sector.

Cognisant of the speed at which financial technology is evolving globally and a proactive approach has been adopted to ensure financial innovation does not destabilise Zimbabwe's financial system. To this effect, technological advancements, innovation and digitalization in the banking sector witnessed in the last few years continue to have positive impact on the provision of banking services. Correspondingly cyber and other operational risks and threats have prompted the sector to develop mitigants to ensure a safe and secure financial system.

In light of the shifting operating landscape, the regulator is already leveraging on virtual based platforms to carry out its financial stability mandate while ensuring that the banking sector continues to play a central role in supporting the economy. Accordingly, the RBZ continues to implement financial stability enhancements by embracing international standards that promote financial stability.

CONSTRUCTION

The construction sector in Zimbabwe is critical as it is the backbone of infrastructure development. According to the Ministry of Finance, the sector is projected to grow by 17.4% in 2022, despite suffering a major contraction in 2019 where the sector's growth declined by 13.9%.

The sector has a lot of potential to expand with many opportunities to rehabilitate public infrastructure such as schools, dams, poor road networks, hospitals and residential, among many other areas. The government has earmarked several projects which present numerous opportunities within the sector.

Some of the projects and focus areas, as announced by the Minister of Finance in the National Development Strategy 1, which is the blueprint strategy document to guide the government from 2021-2025, include:

- Construction of new housing units and upgrading of informal settlements equipped with the necessary basic and social services infrastructure and amenities
- Targeting to increase power supply from the current installed capacity of 2317MW to 3467MW by the year 2025 and construction of additional 280km of transmission and distribution network by 2025.
- Upgrading of unpaved trunk roads to surfaced standards including uncompleted bridge construction
- Construction and rehabilitation of schools and health facilities
- Construction of additional Courts in small towns and remote areas as well as revamping of outstanding court rooms

Some specific projects outlined in the 2022 Budget statement include:

- Construction of 75 dip tanks and rehabilitation of 285 dip tanks across the country;
- Construction of veterinary district offices in Marondera, Esigodini, Binga, Nkayi and Chimanimani;
- Construction of a control tower and two harbours at Tugwi-Murkosi dam

The Government of Zimbabwe continues to pursue various construction and development projects. Between January and August 2021, the construction industry earned $10,7 billion through State-funded road rehabilitation and expansion projects, half of which went towards the Harare-Masvingo-Beitbridge Highway, one of the biggest of ongoing road rehabilitation projects. Following the declaration of the state of disaster on the country's road network in February 2021, the government embarked on the Emergency Roads Rehabilitation Programme Phase II to be implemented over three years at an estimated overall cost of US$400 million, with focus on the rehabilitation of major arteries and feeder roads in both urban and rural areas

Zimbabwe has experienced engineers and architects who are envied across the globe. The country also boasts of quality construction products. The private sector and investors alike are invited to take a keen interest in the developments taking place in the construction industry in Zimbabwe. Other support service providers are also invited to consider developing new technologies and making investments in fibre networks, solar, water and sanitation facilities, biogas, as well as building infrastructure through Public Private Partnerships (PPPs).

INFORMATION & COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGY

Zimbabwe has a well-established information and communication technology sector with significant potential as technical advancements continue to be invested in.

Fixed telephone, mobile telephone, mobile money transfer, online payment systems, data and internet, as well as postal and courier services, are all included in this sector.

Zimbabwe's mobile telecommunications infrastructure is well-developed, with a wide range of products and services provided by both public and commercial operators. POTRAZ regulates the sector, and according to the regulator's report, in the 2nd quarter of 2021, the total number of active mobile subscribers was 13.9 million, up 3.4 percent from 13.5 million in the first quarter of the same year. The mobile penetration rate improved by 2.2 percent to 93.5 percent in the second quarter of 2021, up from 91.3 percent in the previous quarter. The rise in active mobile subscriptions could be attributed to increased demand in the economy, at both the home and industry level, because of Covid 19 moving most processes online.

The total number of active fixed telephone lines fell by 0.4 percent to 244,316 on Q3, compared to 245,322 Q2. Subscriptions from both businesses and individuals have decreased. Emerging technologies such as Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) and even mobile telephony continue to put pressure on the fixed network, resulting in a drop in active subscriptions over time.

The number of active Internet and data subscriptions climbed by 1.2 percent in the third quarter of 2021, to 9.3 million, up from 9.2 million in the second quarter. On the other hand, mobile internet and data traffic increased by 10.4% to record 25,882Terraabytes in the third quarter of 2021 from 23,436Terraabytes in the second quarter of 2021. Used international incoming bandwidth capacity also increased by 4.1% to record 188,768Mbps in the third quarter of 2021 from 181,309Mbps recorded in the second quarter of 2021. According to POTRAZ, the country's telecoms regulator, the increase in mobile internet and data usage was attributed to increasing work force telecommuting as a result of the Covid-19 regulations.

Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, the ICT sector has changed and evolved; the outbreak raised consumer demand for and acquisition of ICT services. With greater innovation and improved connection in the country, the sector is projected to continue to evolve quickly. With the COVID-19 epidemic continuing to revolutionize how we live, work, and communicate with one another, going digital is more crucial than ever. The necessity of a healthy and inclusive digital economy, as well as reliable broadband connections, is critical as the epidemic continues to disturb normalcy.

The postal and telecommunications sector is still vital to the country's economic development, and it has also evolved into a critical enabler for other industries. As envisioned in the government's National Development Strategy 1 (NDS1), the industry is projected to continue enabling other industries, particularly e-commerce, which appears to be on the rise as indicated by increasing courier volumes. There is a need for coordinated efforts in consolidating strategies that intentionally focus on ICT development, implementing smart policies and effective processes that encourage investments in ICTs and digital skills, and developing relevant and appealing applications to improve the economy's ICT absorptive capacity in order to achieve a digitally enabled economy.

MANUFACTURING

The manufacturing sector plays a key role in the economy of Zimbabwe as it adds value mostly to primary products from the agricultural and mining sectors. It is diverse, and has various sub-sectors such as engineering, building and construction, food and beverages, chemicals, pharmaceuticals, clothing and textiles, furniture, as well as leather and leather products among others.

In 2021, the sector contributed 18.4% to Gross Domestic Product with at least 85% of fast-moving consumer goods on local shelves being locally made; all this despite the challenges brought by the global COVID-19 pandemic. In his delivery of the 2022 National Budget, the Minister of Finance and Economic Development pronounced that government's focus would shift towards the production of high-value goods with higher output and higher export earning potential. This would increase the sectors' contribution by an expected 5.5%, supported by tax incentives aimed at stimulating industrial growth.

As part of government's thrust to become an upper middle-income economy by 2030, the manufacturing sector would be further assisted by way of the provision of medium to long term finance for the implementation of value addition initiatives by companies in the agriculture, mining and service sectors. Support would be also extended to various sectors for the development of specified value chains. Manufacturing companies would also continue to benefit from the rebate of duty on capital equipment imported for use in specified industries. The manufacturing sector has numerous investment opportunities across its various sub-sectors, whose exploitation promises considerable growth both for the sector and the economy.

MINING

Zimbabwe's mining sector is upbeat about prospects of achieving the growth target of 8% in 2022.

In the 2022 national budget, the Mines & Mining Development Ministry was allocated US$3b to enable implementation of programmes to achieve the US$12b Mining industry target by 2023, which should see gold exports of US$4b and platinum at US$3b. Private sector is expected to play a big role in the attainment of these targets while Government seeks to create an enabling environment that encourages investment in the sector.

ZIMBABWE'S mining industry is projecting a significant increase in production in 2022 despite battling Covid-19 related challenges that have been afflicting the sector for the past two years. According to the Chamber of Mines of Zimbabwe (CMZ), major increases in production this year are expected in diamonds, coal, gold, and chrome.

The latest CMZ report projected a percentage growth of 43% in diamond production, with coal expected to rise by 40%, chrome (33%) while gold output is expected to increase by 21% this year. The 2022 Mining Business Confidence Index (MBCI) showed that mining executives are confident about business prospects this year.

Regardless of the prevailing capital constraints, gold output is expected to grow 73.6% to 33000kg up from 19050kg in 2020. Platinum will slightly increase by 3% to 15000kgs.

Notable among the positive sentiments includes optimism about commodity price outlook, improvement in capacity utilisation and anticipated output growth. On the negative side, however, mining business executives expect the investment environment to be depressed, characterised by high cost of capital. They further anticipate foreign exchange constraints and infrastructure deficit to persist in 2022.

According to the report, variables such as investment competitiveness, access to foreign exchange, mining policy environment and country risk will remain in the negative territory. Findings on measured variables include the overall MBCI which is expected to increase from 9,8% to 17% while mineral output growth prospects will go up from 47,1% last year to 69,2%. There is also an increased prospect on expenditure on capital projects rising to 69,7% from 51,5% with employment prospects set to increase to 39,4% from 33,3%. The findings, however, noted a decrease in profitability prospects from 27,3% dropping by 2% this year with investment competitiveness, access to and cost of capital, mining fiscal regime, economic growth outlook, country risk, infrastructure and energy prospects also dropping. The report said the year's mineral output projections for selected minerals indicate that gold will rise from 29 tonnes of last year to 35 tonnes, representing a 21% projected growth. There is also an expected improvement in diamond production from a projected 3,8 million carats achieved last year to five million carats. Coal production is projected to increase from 2,8 million tonnes to 3,9 million tonnes while chrome production is likely to grow to 1,6 million tonnes from 1,2 million tonnes last year. Increased production is also projected in platinum, palladium, and nickel. The report further indicated that mining industry capacity utilisation is likely to jump by 3% from the 80% projected last year. Mining executives are confident about mineral output growth in 2022. Majority of the respondent mining houses are planning to ramp up production in 2022 by ranges of 3% to as high as 100%. Approximately 58% of respondents are planning to increase production by up to 40%, while 42% of respondents are planning to ramp up production by more than 40%.

However, capacity utilisation constraints during the year will include, among others, high-cost structures, Covid-19-related challenges, capital shortages, power outages and antiquated equipment. As was the case for 2021, mining executives are less confident about the prospects of a competitive investment in 2022, with 70% of respondents expecting the investment environment to remain depressed as in 2021. The MBCI further states that respondents to the survey are expecting the fiscal framework to remain suboptimal while key issues highlighted include high royalty beneficiation taxes, high environmental management levies and misaligned rural district council charges.

The mining executives also indicated that they were expecting a suboptimal foreign exchange framework citing forex retention levels, disqualification of mining companies from participating in the auction market, loss of value on surrendered portions of export proceeds and delays in payments for mineral deliveries.

Almost all respondents indicated that the foreign exchange retention of 60% was inadequate to meet the operational requirements. They highlighted that the 60% retentions were under enormous pressure from requirements to pay royalties, electricity bills, taxes, and some statutory obligations in foreign currency as well as the widespread preference for US dollars by most suppliers. Meanwhile, the report indicated that challenges faced due to the Covid-19 pandemic included market closures due to national lockdowns and limited access to mines for contractors and key suppliers. Some miners indicated that they continued operating during the national lockdown in the first eight months of last year, benefiting from the government position to allow the mining sector to operate as an essential service.

TOURISM

Nestled in the heart of Southern Africa, Zimbabwe is a landlocked country that has earned itself the signature of Africa's best-kept travel secret, Zimbabwe – 'A World of Wonders'. Zimbabwe is located on a high plateau in the southern part of the continent of Africa, between the Zambezi and Limpopo rivers.

Zimbabwe is bordered by South Africa in the south, Botswana in the west, Zambia in the north, Mozambique in the east, and Namibia to the Caprivi Strip. The country covers 390 245 km<sup>2</sup> of land and has a population of 16 million. Harare is its capital city.

Zimbabwe's location within Southern Africa is divinely strategic as it makes destination Zimbabwe a potential hub of tourism in the region. Whilst the country is landlocked, it is linked to countries in Southern Africa by rail, road and air. Destination Zimbabwe boasts of the astounding natural beauty of its landscapes, big-game wildlife safaris, alluring historical and cultural aesthetics as well as a quiet resilience of its people captivating many a traveller. One cannot help but fall in love with its awe-inspiring scenic sites, pristine wildlife, warm, and hospitable locals renowned for their rich cultural and historical heritage. Zimbabwe is indeed a place where one comes as a visitor and leaves as a friend!

Walking down corridors within its cultural sites, visitors are immersed in an excursion of the country's beautiful past which is evident in every Zimbabwean's day to day lifestyle. A life espoused in dances, storytelling, cuisines, art and many more.

The tourism sector plays a crucial role in the attainment of the country's Vision 2030 Agenda as it is one of the four pillars underpinning the growth of the Zimbabwean economy alongside sectors such as agriculture, mining and manufacturing. The country has been on an infrastructure development drive which has seen the expansion and refurbishment of airports. The Victoria Falls International Airport now has the capacity to process 1.5 million passengers annually, making Victoria Falls city a potential travel hub in Southern Africa. Refurbishing and expanding the Robert Mugabe

Zimbabwe is well known for its 7 wonders which are:
A Wonderful People and Culture; Rich History and Heritage; The Majestic Victoria Falls – Mosi-oa-Tunya; The Great Zimbabwe – The Grand Medieval Palace; Pristine Wildlife and Nature; The Mystique of the Eastern Highlands; The Mighty Zambezi and the Mythical Kariba.

International Airport (formerly the Harare International Airport) and other airports within the country is currently underway. These endeavors are expected to ease access to and within Zimbabwe.

In recent years, the government supported capital investment in the tourism sector by providing tax incentives and duty-free status on imports for certain categories of capital goods for hotels, restaurants and safari operators. Real estate availability in and around the city of Victoria Falls provided investment opportunities in the construction of hotels and lodges. Furthermore, the designation of Victoria Falls city as a Special Economic Zone and its promotion as an International Financial Centre is expected to attract notable investments, both foreign and local, to the resort city.

According to Zimbabwe Tourism Authority (ZTA), the country's tourism sector, like many other economic sectors in the country, is slowly recovering after months of uncertainty caused by Covid-19 restrictions. International travel advisories against the country have softened significantly, and domestic travel bans have been lifted signaling the start of a recovery period for tourism. This recovery has been gaining momentum with various tourism activities and facilities re-opening, though still observing Covid-19 Health Protocols. Tourist arrivals are expected to reach 1.2 million and receipts to reach USD 620 million by December 2022.

THE TRUSTED BRAND SINCE 1946

TRANSPORT

The transport sector in Zimbabwe comprises five modes namely, road, rail, aviation, inland water and pipeline transport. Zimbabwe is a land-linked country and national and regional transport connectivity is a necessary condition for promoting economic activity and cross border trade. Zimbabwe is a signatory of the SADC Protocol on Transport, Communications and Meteorology and when the protocol was adopted, it set out significant changes to the road sector management and financing within the region.

The Ministry of Transport, Communication and Infrastructural Development, is responsible for the overall management of transport policy and regulation as well as the administration of road, rail, aviation and inland water transport whilst pipeline transport falls under the Ministry of Energy and Power Development. The day-to-day operations on roads, railways and air transport have been delegated to semi-autonomous entities; the Zimbabwe National Road Administration (ZINARA) for managing the Road Fund and disbursing to road authorities; the National Railways of Zimbabwe (NRZ) for rail transport and the Civil Aviation Authority of Zimbabwe (CAAZ) for air transport. The Ministry of Transport, Communication and Infrastructural Development however retains responsibility for management of some feeder roads and inland water transport.

The Zimbabwe's Customs and Excise Act has provisions that allow transit cargo to pass through the country. It is a liberalised framework that does not discriminate against the source of the cargo and foreign trucks can pick cargo in Zimbabwe. When cargo is in transit, clearing agents lodge duty guarantees with the Zimbabwe Revenue Authority to ensure that the cargo remains transitory traffic and that it is not sold in the domestic market. Apart from meeting the road user charges, no levies are charged on transit cargo, thus making the system much more open and liberal.

The aviation sub-sector comprises ten airports, three of which are international airports, namely at Harare, Bulawayo and Victoria Falls. The other airports are located at Kariba, Masvingo, Buffalo Range, Mutare, Gweru, Beitbridge and Charles Prince. With respect to pipeline transport, the Ministry of Energy and Power Development, through the National Oil Infrastructure Company (NOIC) controls the oil pipeline running from the Beira port in Mozambique to the Feruka Oil Refinery in Zimbabwe. Water transport is dominated by waterborne tourism, leisure activities, commercial and small-scale fishing and sports on the Kariba Dam and the Zambezi River.

The government of Zimbabwe through the National Railways of Zimbabwe (NRZ) is working towards the rehabilitation of the railway system to ensure a reliable rail network whilst offering the much-needed support to economic activities and to provide efficient transportation for bulk commodities. The NRZ is working on best strategies to recapitalise and revive the country's rail sector as highlighted in its strategic plan to increase volumes of cargo transported by railway to 4.2 million tonnes by 2023.

THE ZIMBABWE REVENUE AUTHORITY

Zimbabwe Revenue Authority (ZIMRA) is a statutory body which derives its mandates from the Revenue Authority Act [Chapter 23:11] and other subsidiary legislation.

The mandate of the statutory body entails the collection of revenue, facilitation of trade and travel, advise to the government on fiscal and monetary matters and the protection of civil society.

'ZIMRA's Strategy (2019-2023) ran concurrently with the 'Government's Transitional Stabilisation Programme (TSP: 2019- 2020). The 'Authority's strategy successfully supported the TSP Pillars which include the ease of doing business, restoration of fiscal balance and plugging revenue leakages.

As the country is implementing the National Development Strategy (NDS1) under the theme "Towards a Prosperous & Empowered Upper Middle-Income Society by 2030". ZIMRA is mandated to strengthen its revenue collection effort through reviewing and streamlining tax incentives, formalizing the informal sector, upgrading of the audit and tax services of large taxpayers.

The year 2020 was characterized by Covid-19 pandemic and as the pandemic persists in 2021 ZIMRA has exerted more effort towards the simplification of processes and procedures at both inland stations and ports of entry and exit.

The Authority encourages the use of electronic platforms for the convenience of both the taxpayers and ZIMRA staff during this pandemic period. ZIMRA introduced additional tax payment relationships with mobile money platforms for payment convenience.

The Customs automation program is being fast tracked to eliminate paper processes and interface between staff and clearing agents as well as other stakeholders. Long term solutions to alleviate the boarder posts congestion in the form of dry ports are advancing.

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITIES IN ZIMBABWE

Zimbabwe, ranked after Nigeria and Kenya, has been ranked as one of the top three African countries that offer the best Return on Investment (ROI) between 2014 and 2016.

Zimbabwe is a signatory of several bi-lateral and international agreements (MIGA, OPIC, ICSID and UNCITRAL) which protects the investments of the companies in Zimbabwe. The country has cheap educated and competitive labour, well developed infrastructure, easy access to regional and World markets through its membership in AU, AfCFTA, COMESA, SADC, COPAC, WTO and CISSA.

Zimbabwe's investment value proposition offers investors an array of opportunities across the entire economy. There are plenty of investment opportunities in traditional sectors like mining, infrastructure, manufacturing, tourism, and horticulture. The priority of Government in these sectors is on value addition and mineral beneficiation. In addition to these traditional sectors, investors should explore opportunities in consumer facing industries such as Retail, Information Communication Technology (ICT), Banking, Energy and Services. These sectors have emerged as the fastest growing in the country.
